SUPPORT FOR SORA

Miguel ("Sora") Arreola, a friend to many performing arts students at Diablo Valley College, was in a devastating car crash on Thursday, April 6, near Roseville, CA. He lost control of his car in a downpour and smashed into a tree. People viewing the scene said it was a miracle he wasn't killed, but Sora survived although he did break his femur (thighbone) and faces up to two months of recovery. He is currently at Sutter Hospital in Roseville. His car was totaled. His recovery will include a lot of physical therapy. He first will be attempting to get around with a walker followed by crutches. He will have a complete loss of income while he is unable to work, and probably will have a tough time returning to college classes this year. He also faces the challenges of living in a second-story walkup apartment and no transportation when he is able to go back to school and to work again. His family will be caring for him when he is out of the hospital but they have limited financial resources to help him out.

Any financial help that you can provide to Sora will be greatly appreciated. Help spread the word!
